Waste and Its Effect On Prices

One of the most important problems confronting the people in nearly all countries is how to bring down the costs of production to figures more nearly approximating those which prevailed prior to the war. It is likewise the most difficult problem to solve without creating conditions which would be even more disastrous than the present handicap imposed upon all productive enterprise.

The war created conditions which resulted in a rapid and phenomenal rise in the cost of all raw materials and labor; in fact, of everything entering into the production of goods and articles of every description. The inevitable result was an enormous increase in prices, and while war's demands kept up production to top-notch capacity, with the ending of the war and the re-stocking of the world's supply of necessities, there has come a falling off in demand and consequently in production because people cannot pay the prices which present costs of production make it imperative to charge. The result is unemployment, and the greater the number of unemployed the lower falls the purchasing power of the country. There must, therefore, be a decrease in the costs of production before there can be any marked improvement in the volume of business and of employment.

It is clear, therefore, that there must be a further readjustment. Prices of raw materials have fallen, but the cost of labor necessary to convert these materials for use continues so high, and the cost of transporting both raw materials and the finished products so excessive, that there is not the activity in evidence which the economic needs of the country and all people demand. And labor very naturally insists, that it cannot work for a materially reduced wage until there is a reduction in costs of living.

There is one field, however, in which labor can do much to remedy the present situation and reduce costs of production without being obliged to accept lower wages, and the action which labor should take in the interests of all will not operate to further decrease employment but, on the contrary, the effect must be to increase employment. The action which labor should take is to remove the many restrictions which are arbitrarily imposed by their union regulations and which operate to increase costs of production out of all proportion to the actual work involved in production.

Reference was recently made in this column to the waste of time, labor and money involved in the insistence by printers that type set for one purpose, say an advertisement in a newspaper, must not be used for another purpose, as, for example, in a piece of job printing, but that the same matter must be set up twice. This is pure waste, but the printers insist upon it under the mistaken idea that they are thereby creating more employment. As a matter of fact by unnecessarily increasing costs they are actually curtailing employment.

One of the most serious handicaps to business today is the excessively high railway freight rates. These unduly high charges are affecting every line of business and production. These high rates were partly brought about during the war by the high cost of raw materials, but these costs are now substantially lower. Wages, however, are still high. But the most serious item in costs of railway operation are the new regulations imposed by the railway unions which force the employment of three, four and five men to work what one man, or a man and a helper, can do just as well and even more expeditiously. The labor of the others is pure waste, for which the public is compelled to pay, and which necessitates excessive freight and passenger rates in order to pay for this waste.

Toll is taken on every bushel of grain raised, every head of livestock shipped, every load of lumber or coal, every item of merchandise handled, to pay for this waste. Nobody escapes from paying for a share of this waste. The railway employee who fancies he is profiting from enforcing these economically unsound regulations pays just as do other railway employees, union labor everywhere, and the people generally who know they do not benefit in any degree from having men employed in the doing of unnecessary and totally unproductive work.

Dean Swift, in one of his famous satires makes the King of Brobdingnag express the opinion that whoever could make two ears of corn, or two blades of grass to grow upon a spot of ground where only one grew before, deserved better of mankind and did more essential service to his country than the whole race of politicians put together. Unfortunately for the present age, organized labor seems to have become permeated with the idea that the wise, proper and statesmanlike course is for a man to produce only one-half or one-third as much as he is easily capable of producing, and to insist that several men should be employed to do what would be only a reasonable day's work for one.

In next week's article some recent disclosures resulting from an official inquiry will be cited as indicating the direction in which reform must come in order to right, or at all events improve, existing economic conditions in this and other countries.

New Use For Seaplanes

Fish Eggs Carried From Hatcheries To Inaccessible Points.

A new use for the seaplane has been found on the Pacific coast by officials of the department of marine and fisheries working in co-operation with the air board officials at the Vancouver seaplane station. It is in carrying fish eggs from the hatcheries to otherwise inaccessible parts of the coast line, where eggs can be placed under water in special boxes invented by one of the fishery officers and allowed to complete hatching there. Patrols are also being undertaken, in connection with the fisheries department officials to circumvent fish poachers who stray into forbidden waters.

In either case you'll get such results from good old "Nervine" which has five times the pain destroying power of ordinary remedies. ## RED HOT JULY DAYS

HARD ON THE BABY

July—the month of oppressive heat; red hot days and sweltering nights; is extremely hard on little ones. Diarrhoea, dysentery, colic and cholera infantum carry off thousands of precious little lives every summer. The mother must be constantly on her guard to prevent these troubles or if they come on suddenly to fight them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during the hot summer as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels and stomach, and an occasional dose given to the well child will prevent summer complaint, or if the trouble does come on suddenly will banish it. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Here's a heaven-sent opportunity for every soul seeking rest and restoration of body and mind, from the hard toiling business or professional citizen who has "run a little below par" to the saddest memorial of human frailty, hitherto bound to all advice from those who are compelled to live with him. ## Edmonton Woman Now Eats Better and Feels Better Than In Years

"It certainly is wonderful how quickly the right medicine will get a person feeling well again," said Mrs. Edward Fuller, 12436 122nd St., Edmonton, Alberta.

"When I began taking Tanlac I was so weak and run-down I could hardly hold out through the day. Nothing I ate tasted good to me and I just had to force myself to eat enough to keep alive. I had a headache every day and was restless and nervous and slept so poorly that I was worn out and listless when morning came.

"Inside of a month, Tanlac had me feeling like an entirely different person and I am now eating, sleeping and feeling better than I have in years. My headaches and nervousness soon disappeared and my housework, which had been a drudgery before, actually became a pleasure.

"In my opinion there never was a medicine made that is the equal of Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

A Dangerous Place.

An Irishman visiting a friend in hospital began to take an interest in the other patients.

"What are you in here for?" he asked one.

"I've got tonsillitis, and I've got to have my tonsils removed," was the answer.

"And you?" he asked another.

"I've got blood-poisoning in the arm, and they're going to cut it off," was the reply.

"Holy Moses," said Pat in horror. "This is no place for me. I've got a cold in my head!"

It is easier for a father to keep his coin and his boy apart than it is to teach them to stick together.

It Will Relieve a Cold.—Colds are the commonest ailments of mankind and if neglected may lead to serious conditions. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil will relieve the bronchial passages of inflammation speedily and thoroughly, and will strengthen them against subsequent attack. And as it eases the inflammation it will stop the cough because it allays all irritation in the throat. Try it and prove it.

Extention of Canada's Seed Trade

During the year 1920 Canada's export trade made a considerable advance, owing in no small degree to the efforts of the Dominion Department of Agriculture and the Department of Trade and Commerce. The Canadian Trade Commissioners supplied lists of prospective customers abroad for Canadian seed. These were communicated with and their requirements placed before Canadian exporters. In this way an increased export of seeds was brought about to the United States, Great Britain, France and Newfoundland. To Ireland alone approximately 100,000 bushels of fibre flax seed, worth about $1,000,000, was exported. In British Columbia, field root and garden vegetable seeds, amounting to 100,000 pounds, were marketed through the United Seeds Growers, Limited, Penikese, B.C. Some 75,000 pounds of mangel, swede turnip, and field carrot seed, grown by the Experimental Farms, were sold at current wholesale prices to farmers' organizations and individual farmers. It was deemed advisable to confine the marketing of this seed to Canada, so that farmers might have the exclusive advantage of using this high quality seed. Circulars detailing the available seed potato supplies in Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, and Quebec proved an important factor in relieving the shortage in Ontario. Demonstrations conducted on 117 farms in Ontario and Quebec with mangel and swede turnip seed resulted in showing the superiority of home grown seed over foreign. Seed laboratories are now maintained by the Dominion Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, Winnipeg and Calgary, and at those points some 28,000 tests were carried out. Samples of wheat, oats, barley, timothy, and clover were tested for vitality and, at Calgary, investigation was made into the effect of frost on germination.

The Homesteaders

— BY —
ROBERT J. C. STEAD

Published by Special Arrangement
With the Author.

Harris and his young bride found much to occupy their attention. Their minds were big with plans, nebulous and indefinite, but charged with potentiality, which they should put into effect when they selected their prairie home. To the young girl, naturally of romantic temperament, the journey of love, which they had so recently embarked together took on something of the glamour of knightly adventure. Through the roscate lines of early womanhood the vague undefined difficulties that loomed before them were veiled in a mist of glory as the felt that no sacrifice could really hurt no privation could cut too deep, which was fulfilling her destiny as wife and comrade to the bravest and best of men. The vast unknown herebrake in their utter emptiness could only be full to her—full of life, and love, and color; full of a happiness so great to be contained. She watched the gaunt trees rising naked from the white forest, and her mind fitted on a thousand smiles in advance, while on the cold window-sill her fingers tapped time to the click of the car wheels underneath.

Harris, too, was busy with his thoughts. He measured the obstacles ahead with the greater precision of the masculine mind. To him, love was not a magician's wand to dissolve his difficulties in thin air, but a mighty power which should enable him to uphold them from his path. No matter what stood in the way—what loneliness, what hardship, what disappointment and even disillusionment—he should fight his way out to ultimate victory for the sake of the dear girl at his side. As she watched the wintry landscape unroll through the window he shot quick glances at her face; the white brow, the long lashes tempering the light of her deep magnetic eyes; the perfect nose, through whose thin walls was diffused the faintest pinkness, a setting of ivory; lips, closed and tender as in the sleep of a little child; firm, strong, but not too strong and full and beautiful, the whole forming a picture of purity, gentleness, and confidence which set his being aglow with the joy of immeasurable possession. As he thought of her love, her

TOBACCO HEART

Every Smoker Read This

Tobacco does not seem to affect all alike. Many men enjoy their smoke, live to a good old age, and apparently suffer no ill-effects from the use of the weed.

There are others though, on whose heart and nervous system tobacco produces the most serious results.

It causes palpitation, pain in the heart, and irregularity of its beat; makes the hands tremble, seizes the nerves on edge and causes shortness of breath and loss of sleep.

To counteract this demoralising influence on the heart and nerves there is no remedy to equal Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

They make the heart beat strong and steady, restore tone and vigor to the nerves, and remove all the evil results caused by the tobacco.

Mr. D. McKillop, Coxbath, N.S., writes:—I was much too old to smoke, and got so I could not sleep at night, my hands used to tremble something awful, and I suffered terrible pain in my heart. I told a friend about it, and he advised me to get your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I took two boxes and they gave great satisfaction.

faith her confidence, he swore in his own big heart that neither harm nor want nor sorrow should come upon her, that through every adversity of life he would be her protector, her champion, her defence. And so in the warm embrace of their young dream they rode dreamily, joyously, into the unknown.

With Ned Beaton, the trusty hired man, in charge of the carload of effects, under the direction of Tom Morrison, Harris was relieved of many duties and responsibilities that would have broken in somewhat rudely on his dream. Traffic was congested with the immigrant movement; cars were side-tracked at nameless places for indefinite periods, but stock had to be fed and cared for; bonds had to be provided and all the conditions of departmental red tape complied with when the effects entered the United States, for in 1882 the All-Canadian railway was a young giant fighting for life with the mighty rocks of the North Shore route, and railway traffic with the New West was, perhaps, billed over American roads. These details and a score of others called for patience, for tact, and a judicious distribution of dollar bills. Harris made a mental note of his obligation to Tom Morrison in the matter. He was shrilled enough to surmise that this was the farmer's very practical wedding gift, but he took debt for it nevertheless.

And so the journey went on. As day succeeded day to the monotonous rumble of the car wheels the immigrants became better acquainted, and friendship took root that in after years were to have every sporn of adversity and bloom forth in the splendid community of spirit and sacrifice which particularly distinguished the pioneers. But the strain of travel drew heavily upon physical endurance; meals eaten stale from the cold distribution of dollars, and the roadside stations; the cramp of days spent in the crowded seats; lack of sleep and lack of sleep; the heavy finger on the strongest and heartiest. But one night the dreamers were aroused by the sound of the car wheels, and they saw them back on Canadian soil, and the lagging spirit of the travellers was renewed. A Scotchman struck up an impromptu song, parodied from a well-known hymn, men, women and children joined in the chorus as they caught the words, and rolled it forth with a vigor that vibrated every timber of the car.

"O, Prairie Land, sweet Prairie Land, Where everyone joins heart and hand," they sang, and the sociability of the party seemed to swell with the volume of the song. A bond of human interest, human interdependence—perhaps, even, some phase of human suffering, was already linking them together with links of steel that should withstand every shock of coming years, and bind together the foundations of a mighty land.

In the cold grey of a March morning, when the sun had not yet dispelled the mists of night, and the fringing woods back from the Red river loomed white and spectral through the frost, they re-entered the Empire, and in a few minutes were detouring at Emerson, the boundary town and gateway to the prairies which for a thousand miles stretched into the mysteries of the unknown.

CHAPTER II. Into the Wilderness.

Emerson was the gateway of the great invasion. Situated just on the Canadian side of the International Boundary, the "farthest west" of all communication, on the threshold of the prairie country, it seemed the strategic point for the great city which must arise with the settlement and development of the fertile kingdom of territory lying between the Lake of the Woods and the Rocky Mountains, and between the Forty-ninth Parallel and the unknown northern limit of agriculture. Sixty miles northward, at the junction of the Red and Assiniboine Rivers, Winnipeg was throwing street-tendrils out from her main traffic trunk which marked the route the Indian carts had followed for years as they bore their buffalo hide and pemican to the Hudson's Bay Company's post at Fort Garry. Winnipeg was to be on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway; at least, to promoters of its town-plot activity affirmed; but Selkirk, still farther north, was already flourishing in the assurance that the railway would cross the river at that point. But the Canadian Pacific Railway as yet existed mainly upon paper; its advance guard were pouring into glycerine into the rocks of the wild Lake superior fastnesses, and a little band of resolute men were risking financial disaster in an indomitable effort to drive through a project which had dismayed even the Government of Canada. Some there were who said the Canadian Pacific would never be built, and many there were who said that if built it would always be a charge upon the country—that in the very nature of things it could never become self-supporting.

So while Winnipeg and Selkirk awaited their visitors, Emerson was already enjoying to the full the prosperity which accompanied the influx of settlers. Although the immigrants were not wealthy as the term is now understood even in an agricultural community, most of them had enough money to pay for their outfitting and place them on their homesteads ready for operations. Accommodation in Emerson was at a premium; hotel space was out of the question, and even the barest rooms commanded minings, which the settler must needs have had taken their cue from hotel prices, and were quoted at figures that provoked most thoughtful head-cracking on the part of the thrifty and somewhat close-fisted new arrivals from the East.

Harris left his wife with a company of other women in the Government Immigration building while he set out to find, if possible, lodgings where he might live until he was ready to take her to the Homestead country. He must first make a trip of exploration himself, and as this might require several weeks his present consideration was to place her in proper surroundings before he left. He soon found that all the hotels were full, and had they not been full the prices demanded were so exorbitant as to be beyond his reach, and even had it been otherwise he would have asked her to share the hardships of the exploration trip rather than leave her amid associations which were all too apparent in the hotel section of the town. The parasites and spongers, followers of society, attracted by the easy money that might be wrung in devious ways from the ignorant and farmers, were already represented in force, and flaunted brazenly the sunny side of the civilization. Harris was advancing into the New West. Turning to parties of the town which were less openly engaged in business, legitimate, questionable, or beyond question, Harris inquired at many doors for lodgings for himself, his wife, or for his wife alone. The response ranged from curt announcements that the inmates "ain't takin' boarders" to sympathetic assurances that if it were possible to find room for another it would be done, but the house was already crowded to suffocation. Great lines of washing in the back yards, and groups of dirty children splashing in the spring mud, bore testimony to the congestion. Harris was heartily disgusted with the astonished fierceness, and the unshrinking street was a veller of slush. In two hours Harris, notwithstanding his stout frame and his young enthusiasm, dragged himself somewhat disconsolately back to the immigration building with the information that his search had been fruitless.

At the door he met Tom Morrison and another, whom he recognized as the teller of Indian stories which had captivated the children of his car. Morrison was a man of forty, with a dash of grey in his hair and a kind of twinkle in his shrewd eyes; his composure was a bigger man, of about the same age, whose weather-beaten face bore testimony to the years already spent in pioneer life on the prairie.

"And what luck have ye had?" asked Morrison, seizing the young man by the arm. "Little, I'll be thinkin', by the smile ye're forcin' up. But what an I think of?" Mr. McCræe was from way out in the Wakopa county, and an old-timer on the prairie. To know every corner in the town, I'm thinkin'."

"Alek, McCræe," said the big man. "We leave our 'misters' east of the Great Lakes. An' Ah'm not from Wakopa, unless you give that name to all the country from Pembina Crossing to Battle Mountain. Ah'm doing business all through there, an' no more partial to one place than another." "What is your line of business, Mr. McCræe?" asked Harris.

"Alek, I said, an' Alek it is." "All right," said the other, laughing. "What is your business, Alek?"

"My business is assisting settlers to get located on suitable land, an' eking out my own living by the process. There's a strip of country in there, fifty miles long by twenty miles wide, that Ah know like you know your own farm, down east. It cost me something to learn it, an' Ah sell the information for part of what it cost. Perhaps Ah can do something for you later, along professional lines. Just now, as 'Tom here tells me, ye're hunting a house for the wife. Ah know Emerson too well to suppose you have found one."

"I haven't, for a fact," said Harris, reminded of the urgency of his mission. "I've tramped more mud this morning than would make a good farm in Ontario, but mud is all I got for my trouble."

Making History.

INFANT MORTALITY in past ages has been something frightful, something almost beyond belief, and even today it occupies the time and the mind of leading physicians in all countries. The death rate among infants is being gradually reduced through new methods of hygiene, new preventatives and new remedies for infants. This reduction in the death rate has NOT been accomplished by adapting the precautions taken and remedies used by adults. Rather has it been to keep clear of the old methods, and choose after long research the precautions and remedies specifically applicable to infants.

This being so, is it necessary for us to caution mothers against trying to give her baby relief with a remedy that she would use for herself? Will she remember that Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for infants and children?

Children Cry For

Fletcher's CASTORIA

An experienced doctor discloses Fletcher's Castoria, especially for babies' use. It is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric Drops and Soothing Syrup. Doctors who know, what is safe and best for babies have only good to say of it.

Don't neglect your baby. Get a bottle of Fletcher's Castoria and give baby a few doses of it. See how the little one smiles at you as you try to thank you for helping it. ## Figures Show How The Agricultural Wealth Of Canada Is Increasing Agriculture ranks first and foremost among Canada's industries, and by means of its progressive strides successfully maintains its place at the head of the list in spite of the rapid progress made each year in manufacturing and other Canadian activities. The total estimated agricultural wealth of the Dominion in 1920, according to the Monthly Bulletin of Agricultural Statistics, amounted to $7,612,151,000 exclusive of miscellaneous products such as tobacco, flax, fibre, and maple products which would add another $23,000,000 to this total.

Agricultural production for the year 1920 is estimated at $1,946,648,000, made up of field crops, $1,455,244,000; farm animals, $140,083,000; wool, $5,321,000; dairy products, $256,000,000; fruits and vegetables, $40,000,000; and poultry and eggs, $50,000,000. To arrive at the estimated agricultural wealth, $4,323,588,000 is added for land and buildings, $391,669,000 for farm implements, and $1,041,246,000 for farm livestock.

The estimated agricultural wealth of the previous year, 1919, was $7,379,299,000, showing an increase in value for the past year of $232,852,000. An increase in production value accounts for part of this, significant of a remarkable increase in yield when the decline in prices of farm commodities is taken into consideration. The steady and continual rise of farm land with the improvements in the way of buildings thereon had the effect of nearly doubling this item of the estimate. Whilst the value of the country's possession of farming implements increased considerably there was a decline in the value of livestock, though no perceptible dwindling in numbers for the main part.

The ascending value of agricultural production in Canada is very clearly illustrated in a comparison of the values of the past six years. In 1915, the total production was valued at $1,118,694,000; in 1916, at $1,223,952,000; in 1917, at $1,621,038,000; in 1918, at $1,905,373,000; in 1919, at $1,975,841,000; and in 1920, at $1,946,648,000. Between the years 1915 and 1920, field crops increased in value from $825,371,000 to $1,455,244,000; farm animals from $79,953,000 to $140,083,000; wool from $3,360,000 to $5,321,000; dairy products from $146,005,000 to $256,000,000; fruits and vegetables from $35,000,000 to $40,000,000; and poultry and eggs from $35,000,000 to $50,000,000.

Many factors are contributing to the aggrandizement of Canadian agricultural wealth. Each year sees a substantially increased acreage and production due to continuous settlement, which in its turn effects a rise in Canadian farm land values.

Betterment of Livestock

Pure-Bred Bulls Distributed Among Farmers in Western Canada.

In the interest of the betterment of livestock about four hundred pure-bred bulls are being distributed among farmers in Western Canada under a loan scheme of the Dominion Government. R. S. Hamer, chief of the livestock branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, has purchased three hundred pure-bred bulls at the various shows held in Western Canada for the purpose of acquiring additional first-class animals in connection with this scheme.

Incorporate Reindeer Ranch Co.

Another company, with the object of ranching the reindeer and selling the meat as well as utilizing the hides, has been incorporated at Vancouver under the presidency of Stefansson, the Canadian explorer. He will leave with an expedition this fall to determine on the suitability of certain islands in the Arctic north of the Dominion.

British Capital Interested in Oil.

Several prominent British financiers, interested in oil development, are expected in Calgary this summer, to investigate not only the northern oil fields but the producing area of Southern Alberta.

Aircraft Service at the Coast

Regular Service to Seattle and Other Cities Inaugurated.

The Aircraft Manufacturing Company is now operating a first-class commercial aircraft service in Vancouver. A large modern Curtiss seaplane has been secured as a nucleus of a much bigger fleet and the hangars are situated on Burrard Inlet. Passengers will be taken up at English Bay and a regular service to Seattle, Victoria, Nanaimo and other cities will shortly be inaugurated. In addition to this aerial photography will be undertaken by the company, which should prove a great service to the owners of timber areas.

Editor Has a Big Job

But it is One of the Noblest Professions on Earth.

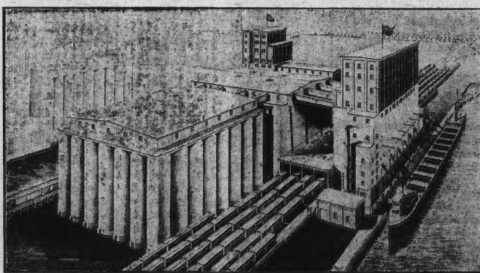

The man who edits the average newspaper cannot avoid reading on somebody's toes continually. He must expect to be censured often for unintentional failures; must expect hard work and little thanks; must expect to be called a coward because he does not "pitch into" everything that somebody thinks is wrong, and a fool if he speaks out too plainly on public evils; he must expect to grind other people's axes—and turn the grindstone himself.

Still we think it is one of the noblest professions on earth; the one in which the earnest man can do the most good to his fellow man, comments a western editor.—From the Fourth Estate.

A force of carpenters and others are at work putting up the necessary buildings, which consist of several dwelling houses, large barns and feeding sheds, etc.

Prince Rupert Fisheries.

For the first two weeks of May, the halibut receipts for Prince Rupert totaled 1,600,000 pounds, exceeding for a like period anything in the history of the fishing industry. This is exclusive of 200,000 pounds which was forced to go to other points.

Human Qualities of Sims

Nothing Petty or Small in His Open-Hearted Manner.

In his human qualities as in his naval exploits Admiral Sims is after the American people's own heart.

When this grizzled, rugged, open sea warrior, who has been in the great war of all history, was the object of an attempted humiliation put upon him by a man of very little consequence in the big affairs of this big world, various and varied may have been the opinions as to how the renowned Admiral would take it. Admiral Sims might have blazed into indignation, or he might have challenged the justice of the official reprimand, or he might have withdrawn in the sulks.

But Admiral Sims did none of these things when Denby offered him the petty affront. With his honest sailor speech and jolly sailor laugh that splendid tanager of the German submarines manfully blurted out to the public: "Having spilled the beans, I got what was coming to me."

The more the American people see of Sims, their great naval figure of the war, the better he looks to them.—New York Herald.

Developing Grain

Benefits Derived From Improving Strains In Cereals.

What can be done in the west in respect of developing grains, trees, fruit and vegetables was illustrated forcibly by George H. Hutton, of the Canadian Pacific Railway's Department of Natural Resources, when addressing the Calgary Board of Trade for he stated that during last year alone, Alberta had realized from $20,000,000 to $30,000,000 more from March wheat due to the work of Dr. Saunders, of the Dominion experimental farms, who evolved this type from the Red Fife and the Calcutta Hard.

Fur Sealing On B.C. Coast.

West Coast Indians expect to take about two thousand fur seals this season. Last year the catch was twelve hundred. Indians are the only persons who can legally take these animals, outside the legal percentage permitted by International Treaty.

Experimental Farms Prove To Be Great Benefit To The Farmer

Fair Sex as Farmers

Resolution Urging Government to Permit Women to File on Homesteads.

A resolution, urging the Federal Government to permit women to file on homesteads on the same basis as men was passed at the convention of the Federated Women's Institute at Edmonton. At the present time only widows may file under the homestead regulations and it is pointed out that since the war women have discovered they are quite capable of performing all the work a farm entails. Several nurses who served overseas have exercised their soldiers' right to take homesteads whilst other women have purchased lands they are unable to secure otherwise.

British Factories.

Advocates British Factories for Dominion to Hold Trade for United Kingdom.

The erection of British factories in the Dominion in order to secure for the United Kingdom a share in the "great industrial future of Canada," is advocated by Sir Peter Rylands, president of the Federation of British Industries, in a contribution to the Weekly Bulletin of the Department of Trade and Commerce. Sir Peter urges increased reciprocal trade between the United Kingdom and Canada, and the investment of British capital in the Dominion. He professes the services of the federation's officials in their various centres, on behalf of Canadian business men visiting the United Kingdom.

Voting In Ancient Pompeii.

Ancient Pompeians had both primary and general elections, similar to those we have in every town and city each spring. They were in the midst of an exciting local election, it is indicated by remains discovered when Pompeii was destroyed in 79 A.D.

Agriculture is the first industry of the Dominion and likely to remain so, and recognising its importance as such, no pains nor efforts are spared in developing and promoting it by every means possible. The Government of Canada and many influential organizations unceasingly are exerting every effort to induce colonization and people the nearly one hundred million acres of fertile uncultivated arable land in the Prairie Provinces as well as the undeveloped lands of Eastern Canada and the Maritimes. But their zeal does not end with getting immigrant settlers settled on the land. It is the country's aim to make each a successful agriculturalist both to his own profit and that of the Dominion, to this end maintaining the supremacy of Canadian agriculture.

One of the principal and most successful means in accomplishing this is the experimental farm. Canada has established and developed an excellent system of experimental farms which cover the country and adequately serve, with their branches, every settled portion of the country. The central experimental farm, which is headquarters for the Dominion, is located at Ottawa, whilst branches and auxiliary farms and stations are to be found in every province. There is one farm in each of the provinces of Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick and Ontario, two in Nova Scotia, four in Quebec, two in Manitoba, three in Saskatchewan, two in Alberta, and four in British Columbia. There are also two sub-stations in Yukon, two in the Yukon, one in British Columbia. An addition to the system is the tobacco stations at Farnham, Quebec, and Harrow, Ontario.

At all these farms, experimentation and research are carried out on every phase of agriculture, and advice and assistance tendered on every aspect of farm life. Their operations have proved of immeasurable benefit in ascertaining the adaptability of certain plants to specific crops, originating plant life from the crop values of newly settled areas, and extending information on every point in farm life. They are at the continuous service of the Canadian farmer who is confronted with some problem in his daily round or who is in doubt as to how to proceed with some operation.

The results of experimentation, the reports of researches and concrete information for the farmer, is disseminated by the Exhibits and Public Branch. Exhibits are held all over Canada at provincial and local fairs, lectures are given on a wide variety of subjects, and an extensive distribution of literature is made.

The farmer in Canada is recognized as the most valuable asset the country possesses. He is at the basis of the nation's wealth and progress; he is the hinge upon which swings national development. To make better farmers and promote agriculture generally is recognized as a prime factor in Dominion expansion, and to effect this warrants the nation's utmost endeavors. Canada has already surpassed the world with both the quality and quantity of her agricultural products, and this in some little measure is due to the system of experimental farms at all times at the farmer's service.

Expect Big Apple Crop.

Everything points to a record apple crop in British Columbia this year, and, if nothing happens to hamper growth, the prairie markets are assured of a good supply of high grade apples, according to J. A. Grant, British Columbia Fruit Commissioner for Alberta. Mr. Grant estimates that five thousand cars of apples will be shipped out of British Columbia this year, which is an increase of nearly 100 per cent. over last year's output.

STOMACH TROUBLE DUE TO THIN BLOOD

It Usually Disappears When the Blood is Made Rich and Red.

Thin blood is one of the most common causes of stomach trouble. It affects the digestion very quickly. The glands that secrete the digestive fluids are diminished in their activity, the stomach muscles are weakened and there is a lack of force. In this state of health nothing will more quickly restore the appetite, digestion and normal nutrition than good, rich, red blood.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood, making it rich and red, and this enriched blood strengthens weak nerves, stimulates tired muscles, and awakens to normal activity the glands that supply the digestive fluids. This is shown by an improved appetite, and soon the effect of these blood enriching pills is evident throughout the whole system. You find that what you eat does not distress you, and that you are vigorous instead of irritable and listless. If your appetite is fickle, if you have any of the distressing pains and symptoms of indigestion, you should at once take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They will be of great benefit in any case of indigestion, or can be taken by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A large nest of wasps will account for at least 24,000 flies a day, says one naturalist.

Tangerine Chiffon For Evening Party

By Marie Belmont.

Among the decorations that are much in vogue at this time are beads. Sometimes these are extremely large or again they may be quite tiny when they are massed together to achieve a decorative effect. On this evening gown small and large alternate where they are used to outline the dress. It is fashioned very simply. The skirt is designed with an irregularly draped tunic that is prettily weighted by the beads. The corsage is made with a deep U-opening. A small piece of the chiffon is inserted in the opening, the upper part being bound with lace, while the fringe is enriched with flat silk roses.

There is no poisonous ingredient in Holloway's Corn Remover, and it can be used without danger or injury.

A marine grass found extensively in Japanese waters yields a fibre which, when mixed with cotton, both strengthens and cheapens thread, which is usually made of cotton alone.

Cause of Asthma. No one can say with certainty exactly what causes the establishing of asthmatic conditions. Dust from the street, from flowers, from grain and various other irritants may set up a trouble impossible to be relieved except through a sure preparation such as Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. Uncertainty may exist as to cause, but there can be no uncertainty regarding a remedy which has given relief to a generation of asthmatic victims of this scourge of the bronchial tubes. It is sold everywhere.

PIMPLES ON FACE CUTICURA HEALS

Caused Disfigurement. Itchy and Burning. Had Restless Nights.

"My face came out in little pimples that were sore, and I scratched them down constantly, and then they turned into scales, causing much disfigurement. The scales were so itchy that I irritated it by scratching. The burning was fierce, and I had many restless nights."

"This trouble lasted about a year before I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and after using three cakes of Soap and two boxes of Ointment I was healed." (Signed) W. Byrnes, St. Basile, Que., Nov. 21, 1918.

Pretender to Throne of Russia.

Despite the overwhelming evidence that the life of the Czarovich was not spared, a pretender to Russian authority has arisen and is likely some day to prove to be a thorn in the Soviet flesh.

As in other cases of lost nobility this false Alexis has not met any difficulty in rallying a certain number of peasants to his cause.
